Auction Sale To-Day.
J. P. DAVIES & Co., 1100-1101, will sell at the late residence of the Rev. Mr. Somerville, Douglas Street, at 11 o'clock, Household Furniture, Carpets, Glassware, Tablecloths, &c.

In the House of Commons Mr. Winterbottom and Mr. Henderson each gave notice of a question which certainly cannot be too soon asked and answered. They wish to know whether Mr. Gladstone's attention has been called to a statement recently made by Lord Romilly in the House of Lords to the effect that shortly after his accession to the bench he discovered among the accounts of an eminent railway company the item of £10,000 for secret service money paid to members of Parliament. It is, of course, impossible that an accusation of so grave a character, when publicly made on the authority of one of the judges of the land, can be passed over without inquiry. The system of "lobbying" is an American institution which we do not care to see transplanted to this country. As a means of forwarding private legislation it is generally supposed to have long ago become obsolete in England. The sole instance of recent date of a change of this kind being brought forward was in the accusation preferred against a member of Parliament some years back by Mr. Washington Wilkes. On that occasion, however, the charge turned out to be groundless, and Mr. Wilkes was handed over to the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms till he repented and retracted. The Master of the Rolls, being a peer, cannot, we presume, be summoned to the bar of the Lower House, but he may be called upon in another way either to make good or withdraw his charge against the honor of the Commons. It certainly seems strange that Lord Romilly should have refrained from calling attention to his discovery at the time it was made, apparently some seventeen or eighteen years ago.—Pall Mall Gazette.

CHRIST CHURCH CATHEDRAL BUILDING FUND.—About the 12th or 14th of May will be held in this city a Bazaar of sundry articles donated by public spirited Christian ladies and their friends, the proceeds resulting from the sale of which will be applied to swell the Building Fund of the recently commenced Christ Church Cathedral. The object is one that appeals directly to the sympathies of all. The friends of the colony in England are using exertion to procure subscriptions, Her Majesty has been memorialized to forward the good cause, and surely we should do all we can to help ourselves. The Bazaar will be held in the new building, corner of Government and Fort streets, the use of which has been given by Mr. Burrell, agent for the property. Ladies and others wishing to contribute articles, should send them to Mrs. Cridge or Mrs. Harris.

ARRIVAL OF THE U. S. S. NEWBERN.—The U. S. Steamer Newbern, Capt. Freeman, arrived at Esquimalt at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, bringing 17 passengers and a large mail and express. The Newbern left San Francisco at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon and reports a pleasant passage. Following is the passenger list: Lady Franklin, niece and 2 servants, Gen. Irwin, U. S. A., and wife, Gen. Tidball, U. S. A., and wife, Col. Woodruff, U. S. A., and wife, Capt. Smith, U. S. A., wife and 2 children, Lieut. Higgins, U. S. A., Lieut. Lytle, U. S. A., Mrs. Freeman and 2 children, Miss Bronson, Miss Moody, Dr. Harris, U. S. A., Dr. Williams, Medical Director of Alaska, Mr. Sunday, Paymaster's Clerk, Henry Friede, Wm. S. Arneheim. The Newbern has a cargo of stores for the Alaska military station.

LADY FRANKLIN arrived last evening in the U. S. S. Newbern, looking remarkably well and vigorous for one who has almost reached fourscore years. Lady Franklin is accompanied by her niece and intends visiting Alaska in the Newbern and spending some weeks in that interesting section. Her ladyship visited the colony in 1861, and passed some weeks pleasantly among us.

BANK OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.—At the half-yearly meeting of shareholders, which was to be held in London on the 5th inst, the directors would recommend that a dividend at the rate of five per cent per annum be declared for the half-year, that £259 4 5 be appropriated to close the 'bad debt account,' and that the balance of profit, amounting to £4172 18 9, be carried forward.

COURT SITTINGS.—The County Court will sit on Thursday, the 3d day of May, and the Court of Assize and General Gaol Delivery on Wednesday, the 4th day of May, at the Court House, James Bay.

THE Military Department of Alaska has been broken up as an independent department and will be attached to that of Columbia under General Canby.

An interesting young gentleman at San Francisco, on Tuesday last, stole behind his father while the latter was reading a newspaper, and cut the old gentleman's throat. Will probably die.

H. M. S. CHARYBIS, Capt. Lynde, with Admiral Farquhar, went out for ball practice on Thursday and returned the same evening. On Thursday the ship was inspected by Admiral Farquhar.

LIBERTY MEN.—A large number of the zealous men are on shore and the majority appear to be enjoying themselves in a rational and proper manner.

TOM LAFONT, the once celebrated whistler and negro-mistress, died in the Hospital at San Francisco on the 25th inst, aged 33 years.

The steamer Grappler's boilers are completed and will be placed in position by the H. B. Co's shears.

The Rev. Mr. Alexander, chaplain of H. M. S. Zealous, will preach at St. John's Church to-morrow evening.

The Delegates will sail on the next direct steamer—about the 12th of May.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Last evening, for the benefit of Mr. Melville, the performance commenced with the comedy in two acts of the 'Barack Room,' in which Mr. and Mrs. Bates and Mr. Melville won new laurels of popular regard. The beautiful extravaganza of 'Aladdin,' or the 'Wonderful Lamp' followed. It is a harum-scarum piece from first to last, abounding in puns, songs, dances and magical changes. The lamp and the cave, the palace and the pretty princess of the tale are all introduced and were received last night by the audience with enthusiasm. Mr. Melville acted the part of Widow Twankey—and a buxom dame of herculean proportions he appeared. Mr. Bates—who seems to be equally at home in burlesque and tragedy—played Aladdin; Miss Mandeville, Pekoe; Miss Cummings, the Princess; Mr. Vinson the Sultan; and Mr. Thornton Abanazar. All did well and several of the scenes were repeated upon the urgent request of the audience. This evening Aladdin will be repeated.

The return cricket match between Married and Single will not come off to-day.

The Newbern will sail to-morrow morning for Alaska.

There was a clean sheet at the Police Barracks yesterday.

A MEETING of the Executive Council was held yesterday at Government House.

The Cemetery and its Gravedigger.

VICTORIA, April 29th, 1870.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST.—Cannot the disgraceful scenes that are constantly occurring in our cemetery be put a stop to?

Must the Sexton's plea of ignorance be a sufficient excuse for the shameful inhumanity exhibited in the presence of many friends and acquaintances who had assembled on Thursday afternoon to pay their last respects to the deceased? or must the feelings of friends and relatives be outraged through the indulgence of the gravedigger causing the brutal scene of jumping upon that which contained the remains of our friend?

Surely the sum of $5 is sufficient payment to guarantee the public against a repetition of the above outrage. W. E.

DICTIONARY PORTRAITS.—The Paris journals devote the greater portion of their space to the Tours, and indulge in the minutest description of every incident connected with the proceedings. As a curious illustration of the extent to which prejudice may distort the judgment, we contrast two descriptions of the appearance of Prince Pierre Bonaparte when summoned before the High Court to listen to the indictment against him. According to L'Histoire, 'the accused is very pale. He has lost that deep complexion that well-to-do air, which he formerly had. He spoke thickly. He wore in his button-hole the rosette of the Legion of Honor. In physique, Prince Pierre is a powerful man, tall and big, with a strong and deep head, black hair drawn back over the skull, which is bald, eyes and nose of the Napoleon stamp, moustache, and short beard trimmed à la Guise. The manner in which he wears his coat closely buttoned brings into prominence his robust obesity.' Le Mirailleur describes the Prince as 'tall in stature, of great breadth of shoulders, with swelling muscles, reminding one of a meat dresser (depeceur) at one of the abattoirs in his Sunday clothes. His forehead is low, harsh, and receding, the arch of the eyebrows crooked, and the eyebrows in shape like an antique blade; the eyes ashy and cold, and the eyelids red and swollen. The head is partially bald, the hair forming an angle with his well-cut ear, brought over to almost the back of the head, and bordered with enormous cartilages. His look is insolent, ferocious—'Shoot down my foe.' The nose joining in a straight line with the neck with ridges of flesh, such as are seen in the slaughterers and executioners of antiquity. His face livid and of a greenish hue, the distended skin showing in the cheek a hollow as wide as a 51. piece, and above the lips another disagreeable furrow. The beard of pepper and salt color and the thick moustache cut off transversely to the lower part of the head from the nostrils to the neck. The voice, embarrassed by a barbarous accent, is belated, hoarse and cracked. Upon his countenance is marked a dark bestiality, and it assumes impassibility, but beneath the lurid twitching of the muscles it is easy to detect the wild beast which is preying on its own vitality because it cannot give vent to its rage. In his left hand he holds a kind of note-book bound in red Morocco leather. That has been given to him that he may express his passion upon something lest he should crumble away with his fingers in the woodwork of the tribune where he stands.'

The Economist says the English money market, like everything else which is English, is the product of a long history. It was not made, it grew. It is in this respect like our political constitution. Very likely a theorist could invent specious reasons to show that Queen, Lords and Commons were an inconvenient policy, that the Queen's salary might be saved, and that the Prince of Wales did little or nothing for his money. On paper a theorist might reason that it would be better to wind up the Bank of England, to have in the city a sort of republic of banks, to let each fight with its own hand and none have duties to answer. We do not say this could be proved to be better, but it might certainly be plausibly argued to be better. The answer is—that the new banking system would take generations to acquire the credit which in generations the present system has acquired—that credit is the part of business of most slow growth and least to be created on a sudden, and that it would be madness to destroy a system which does work in order to create a system which might work.

A USEFUL PRECEDENT.—We read in an American newspaper the following letter from a Yankee to her grocer—'Mr. Tuttle,—This here thing has got too much hemp in it for molasses and not quite enough for clothes lines—so I've straitened off the molasses and send you the jug to make up the measure, and have turned over the hemp to the Vigilance Committee to be spun up for future use. So be sure to send me the real thing this time, as all hemp goes to the VC, and the rope is a-growing.'

Theodore L. Parker, grocer of New Bedford, aged twenty-one years, was shot dead on the night of March 25th, by Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, aged forty years, who boarded at the same house. The parties arose from the tea-table together and went into the hall, where she shot him and then herself through the body. She was living and conscious at ten o'clock but has assigned no cause for the deed. She had taken laudanum before.

Miscellaneous Items.
A fellow in a large English provincial town, being greatly annoyed by barkings and caterwaulings, conceived the happy thought of starting a report that an old lady in the neighboring town had left a legacy for every one in the every one in the neighborhood who would bring a dead dog or cat to a certain house specified. The explanation offered of this strange bequest was, that the venerable eccentric spinster had been extraordinarily addicted to canine and feline pets, and had desired to see them brought to untimely ends rather than that they should be exposed to the possibility of ill treatment. A frightful immolation of Tabbies, Trays, Dashes, etc., immediately took place; but to the disgust of their slayers, the resolution of this benevolent spinster could never be found.

'BREECHES' OF PRIVILEGE.—A parcel, purporting to contain a bundle of debates, was recently brought to the Post Office in this City for transmission to its destination. The sensitive nasal organs of the Postmaster or his assistants 'smelled a mice,' the suspected bundle was opened when out fell a pair of bran new pants, with a letter very cleverly stitched in an unmentionable part of the unmentionables. The parcel was forthwith tied up again, and this 'gigantic' fraud on the revenue, these 'breeches of privilege,' referred to the Post Office Department for adjudication. Whether the affair will be brought up by the Attorney General and investigated by the House, we have no means of knowing for certain.—Fulton Reporter.

THE EYE.—A writer in the Riverside Echo on short sightedness, says—'It is believed by many that near-sightedness is caused by the fallacies of the cornea or front of the eye, and that persons afflicted with this deformity were so from their birth. On the contrary near-sightedness is confined to the back of the eye and frequently exhibits no unusual fallacy of the cornea whatever. While the theory is no doubt heretofore it is mainly caused by inflammation, and is so far aggravated by study and close application of the eyes, that we rarely see it developed to a high degree in mariners or farmers but it is quite common with students. It generally begins to be observed when persons are ten or twelve years of age and increases gradually until they have obtained their full growth. Young persons having a tendency to near-sightedness can very much retard it by holding the head in an erect position when reading. Those who suppose, as many do, that near-sightedness in early life is overcome by age, are greatly at fault. When it is of high grade glasses are seldom needed later in life for reading, but the sight or distant objects ever remains the same—and to suppose that such persons ever recover anything like a normal sight, is a great error. An extraordinary case of suicide has just occurred at Paris. A well-dressed man of about forty descended the Quai des Tuilleries, and seating himself beside a man who was fishing, lit his cigar. He then offered one to his neighbor, and, after a few minutes conversation, he rose and went to the river. A fisherman dropped his rod and jumped in after him, but the first immediately struck out and swam away, and the other regained the bank. The former shortly after returned, and, while swimming in front of his temporary acquaintance, drew three Napoleons from his pocket and commenced tossing them in the air like a juggler. At the approach of a number of persons, alarmed by the cries of the spectators of this strange scene, he swallowed the coins, and diving under the waters did not reappear. His body was not found until the evening and as nothing was discovered on it to establish his identity, it was taken to the morgue.'

POLYGAMY IN ITS INFLUENCE ON POPULATION.—At the last meeting of the Anthropological Society, a paper by Dr. J. Campbell was read 'On Polygamy; its influence in determining the sex of our race, and its effects on the growth of population.' Minute details of the relative proportions of male to female births in the harem of the king and other important dignitaries of Siam were given. The result seems to be that the proportions of males and females born were, as in the case of monogamist marriages, entirely equal.

Lieutenant-Colonel Hunt and Major Mason, of Virginia, are about going to Egypt to enter the service of the Viceroy, whose agent in New York is commissioning ex-Federal and ex-Confederate officers as regimental commanders. Others heretofore commissioned have arrived in Egypt and assumed commands.

ORRIS DEATH lives in Warren, Ohio. When he was married the minister said: 'Thou dost take this woman to be thy wife, to watch over her in life, Orris Death?' A poet celebrated the event in some lines beginning, 'Thou hast all seasons for thine own, O Death.'

A Member of the Wyoming Legislature seeking to sustain a point of order, jerked his coat off, with 'Mr. Speaker, if some reliable man will hold these duds, I'll teach him that he is out of order.' The point was sustained.

The Pope, says John Bull, has at last ceded to the incessant solicitations of his friends, and relieved Father Hyacinthe of his monastic vows. Father Hyacinthe is to become a secular priest under the title of L'Abbe Loyson.

A gentleman leaving the company, somebody who sat next to Dr. Johnson asked who he was. 'I cannot exactly tell you, Sir,' replied the doctor, 'and I should be loath to speak ill of any person whom I do not know deserves it, but I am afraid he is an attorney.'

The Rev. A. Meers, formerly curate of Kirkpatrick, Isle of Man, who was one of the Fortington monks, has been received into the Church of Rome.

SPEAKING OF THE holidays, a Nevada paper says—'Pleasureth with a little meat attached costs a dollar. He alludes to chickens.'

The editor of the Weston (Missouri) Landmark asks his readers to excuse the looks of his paper, as he is in bed from the effects of a fight with a delinquent subscriber.

An archer being rebuked for wearing out his stockings at the toes, replied that it couldn't be helped—'toes wiggled and heels didn't.'

A New York paper speaks of 'a man with one eye named Robert Welch,' but does not tell what his other eye was named.

A MINNESOTA editor speaks of another editor as a 'scullie slinger of unsavory English.'

'Mamma mamma!' bellowed the angel of the household from the top of the stairs, 'I'm mad, and Hannah won't pacify me.'

THE PERFECTION OF PREPARED COCOA.
MARAVILLA COCOA.
SOLE PROPRIETORS,
TAYLOR BROTHERS,
LONDON.
THE COCOA (OR CACAO) OF MARAVILLA is the true THEODORA LINSEY. Cocoa is indigenous to South America, of which Maravilla is a favored portion. TAYLOR BROTHERS having secured the exclusive supply of this unrivalled Cocoa, have, by the skillful application of their unique principle and elaborate machinery, produced what is so undeniably the perfection of prepared Cocoa, that it has not only secured the preference of home-brothers and cocoa-drinkers generally, but many who had hitherto refused to partake of it, have after one trial, adopted the Maravilla Cocoa as their constant beverage for breakfast, luncheon, &c.
"AN UNPRECEDENTED SUCCESS."
See following Extract from the Globe of May 14, 1868.
"Various importers and manufacturers have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocoa, but we doubt whether any thorough success has been achieved until Messrs Taylor Brothers discovered the extraordinary qualities of 'Maravilla' Cocoa. Adapting their perfect system of preparation to this the finest of all species of the Theobroma, they have produced an article which supercedes every other Cocoa in the market. Entire solubility, a delicate aroma and a rare concentration of the purest elements of nutrition, distinguish the Maravilla Cocoa above all others for home-brothers and invalids we could not recommend a more agreeable or valuable beverage."
Sold in packets only by all grocers, of whom also may be had Taylor Brothers' Original Homogenizing Cocoa and Soluble Chocolate.
